

A FLOCK OF SEAGULLS

Fan club e-newsletter June 2007

More than 18,000 profile views

Band's new MySpace site grows in number of visits, friends

Daily, more and more people are flocking to see the MySpace Web site created by A Flock of Seagulls leader Mike Score.

AFOS Lead Guitarist Joe Rodriguez has spent countless hours constructing the site, "going through design and color choices, ripping and uploading songs, setting up the discussion group and choosing the topics," he said.

The site was launched in mid-April. As of Wednesday, May 30, the number of profile views was 18,886. A total of 1,616 people are listed as the band's friends.

The site can be found at www.myspace.com/aflockofseagulls.

Rodriguez said the AFOS' MySpace site is unlike those operated by other musical groups.

"This is an opportunity for fans to have an unprecedented amount of direct access with Mike and the current members of AFOS," he said. "While most internationally known bands' MySpaces are run by webmasters and moderators, our site is run exclusively by the band itself."

One of the most significant additions to the AFOS site since April is the group's discussion group. The new feature allows the band's friends to join and post comments on one of several topics listed by Score, who is the moderator.

Also since April, the MySpace site now features four of the band's songs: "I Ran," "Space Age Love Song," "Setting Sun" and "All I Wanna Do," quickly garnering favorable comments from the band's fans. AFOS friends may add any of the songs to their profile page. Combined, the four songs have generated more than 22,000 total plays.

In addition, photos of the band, including the newest members Michael Brahm and Pando, and some of their well-known music videos have been uploaded onto the site for fans to enjoy. AFOS friends also may use the music videos on their own MySpace pages.

The band currently is working on a feature that will allow its MySpace friends to purchase songs and possibly other items such as T-shirts and hats.

The AFOS MySpace site is not the only Web venue that has gained momentum in a short period of time. The number of visitors to the AFOS Fan Club Web site also has increased dramatically, 21,149 since January.

If you have time, go to Mike Score's A Flock of Seagulls Web site on MySpace. In fact, it's free to join. And this way, you will be able to receive blogs from the band and meet other fans.

A link to the Flock's MySpace page also is listed on the fan club Web site at <http://www.oz.net/~davester/AFOS>.

The MySpace link is the official site for A Flock of Seagulls as a band.

CONCERT LINEUP

All show times listed at 8 p.m.

June 1: Discoteca Niza in Lima, Peru

June 15: Jacksonville, Fla.

June 23: The Cannery, Las Vegas, Nevada

July 4: Celebration Town Center, Celebration, Fla.

July 28: Jannus Landing, St. Petersburg, Fla.

July 29: Santa Fe, N.M.

Aug. 24: Mandalay Bay, Las Vegas, Nevada

Aug. 26: Chicago, Ill.

Sept. 22: Kapono's at the Pier, Honolulu, Hawaii

Attention fans: If you are able to attend any of the concerts and take photographs, please feel free to submit those for future Fan Club newsletters to afos3@comcast.net.

The e-newsletter for A Flock of Seagulls fans is published monthly. Submit any items for inclusion in the e-newsletter by e-mail to afos3@comcast.net. The e-newsletter also is archived online at <http://www.oz.net/~davester/AFOS>.
